

When the elephants. by Levity Beet

When the elephants in the zoo got stuck stuck in icky, sticky, muddy muck Grandma took them by their trunks and swung them up into their bunks
when the elephants in the zoo got stuck

When Levity got stuck for an idea
Grandma came and whispered softly in his ear
She said go stand upon your head he did until his face turned red
when Levity got stuck for an idea

When your teachers went and sat in sticky glue in never-come-un-stucky, sticky glue Grandma took them by their hands and ripped the bums out of their pants
when your teachers went and sat in sticky glue
